

The Money Question.

This question in the East has ceived very little attention from the masses, but in the West there is no phase of the question that has not been carefully discussed for nearly twenty years, so that when the East ern papers presume upon the ignor ance of their readers to make untrue statements they will undoubtedly have an effect for a time, but only for a time, for almost every voter one meets frankly confesses that he knows little about the question, but wishe to learn. Persons in such a menta attitude learn quickly. Of course Jartisans who follow blindly the wistings and turnings of politicians will not lister, and will say to-day they believe what they decried a few years ago, and without any reason for the change. For instance the following is taken from the Republican national platform of 1888, only eight years ago: "The Republican party is in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money, and condemps the policy of the Democratic Administration in its efforts to demonetize silver."

This is the beginning of the "silly season" in politics, and of course The sophistries. We would advise every one to get a copy of "A Free Coinage Catechism," published by The Post, and study it; don't merely read it, side of the canal bank. Mr. Corby but study it, think over it; keep ask-

Another question for The Evening Post : Why did you not give the per capita M. Aylsworth of the Park M. E. Church. for 1865 ! Has it no bearing ! Ex cuse a smile, Mr. White. The Sun (Sunday, July 26th, 6th column, p. 6) says: "United States notes, called greenbacks, are issued under acts passed in 1862 and subsequent years down to 1872. They are redeemable in either silver or in gold, at the option of the holder." Let any one examine the greenbacks he may have in his pocket and see if The Sun is correct.

That our readers may readily verify the character of The Sun's statements, we give directions for recognizing readily some of the greebacks alluded to, and at the same time the Treasury notes, which also have no option, except for the United States Greenbacks, series of 1880, Act
